Violence Against Women Act (VAWA)

- Provides immigration relief to victims of domestic violence

- Congress recognized that immigrant victims of domestic violence may remain in an abusive relationship because immigration status is often tied to their abuser.

- VAWA is a “self-petitioning” relief that removes control from the abuser and allows the victim to submit his or her own application that is filed without the abuser’s knowledge or consent.
Who Qualifies?

Who may file?

- Spouses - The abused spouse of a USC/LPR (child may be included as a derivative beneficiary)

- Children - The abused child of a USC/LPR
  - Including: The spouse of a USC/LPR whose child has been abused may file a self-petition based on the abuse of the child. In this case, the parent files based on abuse of the child, but both parent and child benefit.

- Parents – The abused parent of a USC (added by VAWA 2005)

- VAWA immigration relief applies equally to women and men
BASIC VAWA
Eligibility Requirements

Special Requirements for abused spouses:
- Is or was married to USC or LPR
- Marriage was in good faith

Special Requirements for abused children:
- Is child of USC or LPR

Special Requirements for abused parents:
- Is parent of USC

Requirements for all victims:
- Has or had a qualifying relationship to the abuser
- Subjected to battery or extreme cruelty by the abuser
- Resides or Resided with the abuser
- Good moral character
Benefits

- Self-petitioning form—do not need a sponsor (Form I-360)

- Changes to the abuser’s immigration status after filing a self-petition will not adversely affect victim’s self-petition

- Remarriage of the VAWA self-petitioner after approval of the self-petition is not a ground for revocation of the approved self-petition

After the approval:

- Can be placed in deferred action to prevent removal from the US

- Can work in the US

- Can adjust status to lawful permanent resident
How to apply?

- File Form I-360, Petition for Ameriasian, Widow(er), or Special Immigrant with the Vermont Service Center (VSC).

- Immediate relatives may concurrently file Form I-360 and Form I-485, Application to Register as Permanent Resident or Adjust Status with the VSC.

  - Immediate relatives are spouses, children, and parents of USCs

  - Non-immediate relatives (i.e. spouses and children of LPRs) may also concurrently file Form I-360 and Form I-485 with the VSC if their visa number is immediately available.

- Victims may use an alternative mailing address, a "safe address," on their Form I-360. USCIS will use this safe address as the mailing address for all correspondence regarding the victim's VAWA-based immigration relief.

- No fee for the Form I-360 filed by VAWA self-petitioners

- To access the petition for Ameriasian, Widow(er), or Special Immigrant, please use this link: Form I-360

Special Immigrant Juvenile Status (SIJ)

- Provides immigration protection for alien juveniles in a state juvenile court system due to abuse, abandonment or neglect.

- Congress recognized the particular vulnerability of victims of forms of child abuse and provided relief including immediate eligibility for adjustment of status to lawful permanent resident.

- This status requires interplay of federal immigration law and state child welfare law.
Who is an SIJ?

- Juveniles in the state juvenile court system
- Juveniles in federal custody
- All who apply must have a state juvenile court dependency order
Juveniles in Federal Custody

- The Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) has primary responsibility for care and custody of unaccompanied minors in federal custody.

- Juveniles apprehended by immigration authorities must be transferred to HHS.

- When a minor in the custody of HHS applies for SIJ benefits, they must have the specific consent of HHS if the juvenile court order makes a change to custody status or placement of the juvenile.
HHS Care

- HHS runs several programs providing shelter care, health services, placements with non profit organizations and foster families.

- The specialized Unaccompanied Refugee Minor (URM) Program is available to those granted SIJ (I-360 must be granted before the 18th birthday)

- For more information on HHS care, see http://www.acf.hhs.gov/programs/orr/
Eligibility Requirements

In order to be eligible for SIJ status, a minor must:

- Be under 21 years old and unmarried.
- Be present in the US.
- Have a juvenile court order from a state juvenile court that:
  - Declares the minor dependent on the court (the court can also legally commit the minor to a State agency or place them with an individual)
  - Finds the minor cannot reunite with one or both of the immigrant’s parents because of abuse, neglect, abandonment or a similar basis under state law
  - Finds it is not in the minor’s best interest to be returned to the country of nationality
Benefits

- Immediately eligible to adjust status to lawful permanent resident

- Eligible to work in the US once an application for adjustment of status has been filed

- Cannot bring in abusive parents

- I-360 adjudicated within 180 days

- To access the petition for Ameriasian, Widow(er), or Special Immigrant, please use this link: Form I-360

- The Form I-360 is free for SIJ applicants
Congress created several forms of immigration relief for aliens who become victims of crimes, recognizing the particular vulnerability of immigrant victims.

- T nonimmigrant status for victims of Human Trafficking
- U nonimmigrant status for victims of crimes
- Violence Against Women Act (VAWA) relief for domestic violence victims
